Day One's Third Annual Golf Tournament

The Third Annual Day One Golf Tournament was a great success, raising awareness about adolescent substance abuse and funds to support our kids.

Thank you to all of our golfers, volunteers, and sponsors. A special thank you to Northeast Delta Dental and C. Baker & Associates, our event sponsors, and Don Lauzier, Kevin Freeman and Dave Murray, our Golf Tournament Committee.

Proceeds are supporting outreach for the Day One Homeless Youth Program in Portland. In partnership with the Preble Street Resource Center, Day One provides substance abuse and mental health services to Maine's most vulnerable population - homeless youth with no supports, no connections and no safety net.

For more information about all Day One programs, go to www.day-one.org.

Day One Seeks to Secure the Transitional House for Recovery Ensuring Hope, Healing and Recovery for Maine Youth

Key Bank is taking the lead in working with Day One to eliminate the mortgage for the Day One Transitional House for Recovery. An essential resource for youth who have made it through the most difficult period in their recovery, the Transitional House is Maine's only housing for youth who have graduated from the Day One Intensive Residential Program.

In a time of major budget threats, this crucial resource is more vulnerable than ever. The Transitional House was established in 2002 in Portland, Maine, as a safe and sober atmosphere for youth in recovery. The strict requirements of its residents are timely rent payments, furthering job opportunities through work and education and regular participation in group counseling sessions. They learn crucial life skills and support prevention efforts in schools and communities and are active participants in local United Way funding campaigns.

"... and I hope that if there's even one person out there who is experiencing some of the things I went through, that they can hear my story and realize that there are second chances in life." Day One Client

Message from the Board President

I'm proud of the commitment Key Bank has made to The Transitional House. We are supporting a crucial resource for our future, ensuring safe and sober housing for youth completing their education and joining the workforce in the state of Maine. — Dianne Nason, Senior Vice President, Key Private Bank and Day One Board President

Celebrating Hope, Healing and Recovery for 35 Years

Featuring Singer and Songwriter Judy Collins

And our Award Recipients

November 20, 2008

Portland Marriot at Sable Oaks, 6pm to 8pm

Singer and Songwriter
Judy Collins

Day One is honored to give Maine audiences the opportunity to hear Judy Collins speak at our 2008 Annual Celebration and its radio broadcast. Her powerful story of her own recovery and the tragic story of her son who lost his life to the destruction of substance abuse will be shared through her words and her songs.

Judy Collins is best known for her remarkable singing career, with more than 40 albums and several Grammy nominations to her credit. She is also the author of several works of fiction and nonfiction. Her 2003 book, Sanity & Grace: A Journey of Suicide, Survival, and Strength explores how her life changed in January 1992 when her only son, Clark Taylor, committed suicide.

Collins, a recovering alcoholic herself, is honest about the fact that she abused alcohol and struggled with depression throughout the childhood of her son Clark. He struggled with drugs and alcohol throughout his adolescence and early adulthood. Before his suicide, he relapsed into alcohol use after seven years of sobriety. When Clark died at age 33, he left behind a wife and four-year-old daughter.

Serving Maine Youth

Day One's mission is to dramatically reduce substance abuse among Maine youth to help them live productive, healthy and rewarding lives. As Maine's leading agency dealing with youth substance abuse, our programs span prevention, intervention, treatment and aftercare. No child is ever turned away, regardless of their ability to pay.

Our programs serve children, families, schools and communities across the state. The Day One staff at the Long Creek and Mountain View Youth Development Centers counsel 90% of the incarcerated youth. We provide case managers for four Maine Juvenile Drug Treatment Courts. Natural Helpers, our model peer support program for teens, is currently active in 17 high schools throughout the state. Mainly Parents provides assistance to parents through support groups, a toll-free Talkline and online parenting curriculum. Our Outpatient Services in South Portland offer family and individual counseling, homeless teen outreach, case management, and an Intensive Outpatient Program.

For our kids whose drug and alcohol problems need more aggressive help, The James C. Harrod Residential Treatment Center in Hollis is available. This year-long program empowers the kids to live substance free and become independent and active participants in society. As they make their transition into the community, they may access the Day One Transitional House for Recovery in Portland. This low rent housing provides the after-care counseling and peer support that some need in finding work, getting their education and putting to work the life skills they have recently acquired.
